

The Humanity Challenge

A Rashaki Maskani Perspective

May 22, 2022

Introduction

My birth name is Rigo Moore, and my self-given name is Rashaki Maskani. I am considered an African American born and raised in the United States of America in Los Angeles County, grew up in the City of Compton. I played sports in my youth years and was a good math student. I went to college on a basketball scholarship and did not have study skills which resulted in me obtaining a bachelor's degree ten years after high school. I began my teaching career at age thirty to the present.

I speak to my students on a regular basis about life skills and issues, I told them that I began to realize at age twenty-five that I needed to get my degree from college to be an example for my two children that was two and less than old. In our society, I chose the avenue of obtaining a degree which qualified me an opportunity to acquire income to take care of myself and my children.

Nature is that of the Concept of God, which dominates existence, therefore every living entity is subjugated to its dictates, but Man/Woman has the power to evolve beyond its current state of being. Man/Woman is also a "Metamorphous Being," translating to naturally obtaining to characteristics, personality, and communication of the environment it inhabits. Man/Woman can evolve to a higher state of behavior and action when placed in an environment that is healthy with others who are practicing constructive life sustaining activities. I can use myself as an example, when I was an adolescent, I was learning the ways of my environment, which was vanity and physical desirement without knowing about its true purpose. Vanity should be used for self-esteem not to shun or compare to others. Physical pursuits of the opposite sex should be viewed as a healthy fruitful relationship leading towards a goal of producing a family versus an unhealthy minimal sexual conquest of no intentions of the development of a lifelong relationship, which describes my adolescent years. I often share this fact; I began to learn significant "sacred knowledge" (A reference of Professor Amen Rahn) when I turned twenty-five years of age in 1990. Between 1990 and 2010, as I acquired certifications to become an educator, my behavior and actions were slowly changing but non-productive results at times were present, due to our incorrect system of White Supremacy/Racism (WSR). In 2010, I began my audio studies of Black Prolific Educators, at this point an awakening occurred. In 2014, I performed a full body cleanse for eight weeks, after that I change my diet of food, beverages, and activities. Currently I am continuing to eliminate non-constructive mental characteristics learned in this system of WSR and acquiring Constructive Human Characteristics (CHC) to lead to the goal of Humanity for society and myself.

Challenge

In my assessment, we live in a world that is dominated by WSR, a non-humane system, where most people are negatively subjugated. Money and power are the order of existence controlled by few, which most people are mentally affected to the point of self-destruction. For example: To survive men/women will sell themselves for monetary value doing any non-constructive act, which provides non-productive examples to youths to follow that continues to destroy society.

WSR uses its demonic divisive system of color to confuse people, which places one color in an advantageous position over others. Then it has rankings from the lightest light to the darkest of dark, with White being the best and Black the worst, and it is the greatest deception of all because Black naturally produces everything and White produces only White (total recessiveness).

Let's observe Nature, when two people procreate from different ethnic color backgrounds and produce an offspring that has a different skin tone of the parents, in the system of WSR the offspring is considered colored, but Nature supersedes the false narrative of WSR, how do we interpret this to lead to a better understanding of life versus inhumane developed systematic norms?

Lastly, the state of the world is gravely ill if we observe the conditions of most people who are victims of the powerful few. Poverty, hunger, mental illness, homelessness, war victims worldwide, miseducated, exploitation, environmental deprivation, and the destruction of nature in general is the order in which we live.

Solution

In my opinion, the acquisition of "Humanity" is the ultimate solution. The concept of Humanity is not rooted in the state of WSR, therefore like Neely Fuller Jr. utters, develop codes to counter WSR. I offer the sentiment of deleting the mental tenants of WSR and began uploading the characteristics of (CHC). CHC is in short; doing things that will enhance you and your environment in a positive and constructive manner. The greatest challenge of beginning this process is recognizing that we live in an incorrect society and accepting that you as an individual is a participant in its maintenance. Once acceptance has set in, then the awareness will allow you to remain or depart to Humanity.
