

Moral Compass

A Rashaki Maskani Perspective

Human greatness ultimate existing progressive goal
When we strive for this, we'll satisfy our souls
The origin of such a feat starts with our thoughts
But is our thoughts life and environmentally sustainable?
Also, is our thoughts filled with sanity discernment?

When I think about good living
And how to keep winning
I must ascribe to all that's infallible
And build my human base code tool kit
Which will lead to the ability to use my Moral Compass

Recollecting the years of growth
There is an infancy period of mental impression
The learning experience was mass, and the mistakes amounted
The environmental influences triggered many crossroads
Every path created an opportunity to choose the specific route
But was the attention paid to the results of the lessons?
If so, all the evaluations resulted in mental growth which equates to success

When I think about proper education
And how to keep obtaining
I must choose the correct environment
To nurture true correctness and construction
Which will continue my ability to use my Moral Compass

Now seasoned with the proper growing tool kit
Acquisition of the items that will build integrity
Holistic exercises to grow self and environment
Natural existence our true fruitful reality
Will catapult life to a higher way of functioning harmoniously
Therefore, I accept as we all should, life's ultimate validity

When I think about our actuality
And what we agree is the reality
The individual experience of each one gives us a single frame
But if we consider each other as our best selves
It will definitely develop our Moral Compass

I have and I do not know about you
An ultimate view of how life can be utopian
But I grapple with how to acquire true balance
So, I subscribe to thoughts and words are spells
Therefore, I control my placement of environments I dwell
I am offering human base beings to collaborate in elevation
To create an existence of harmonic divine functioning

When I think about the previous text to consider
With acknowledging the ceiling of growth is unlimited
And the addition of The Correct Intent
Capsulizes the acquisition and use of the Moral Compass